Prospectus

Historical:

In the days of the first boom in the Portland Canal country in the year 1910, the interest centred in the Bear River section, but a few hardy prospectors struggled up the Salmon River valley, and what is now the Premier ground was staked. At that time most of the ground up the Salmon valley was open, and only promising showings were located on. These men had the pick of the country. In that year two pioneer prospectors and miners, Patrick Daly and Richard Sullivan, prospected up the East Fork of Cascade Creek, and located the Daly & Sullivan group. In the same year the Lindeborg brothers located the Lakeshore claim, directly opposite.

Position:

These claims, together with others, now form part of the Cassiar Group, situate at the head of the East Fork of Cascade Creek in the upper Salmon River valley, Portland Canal Mining Division, Cassiar District. They are four miles up the valley from the Premier Mine, on the same range. This, the main group of claims owned by the Cassiar Gold Mines, Limited, adjoins on the North the properties of the Sebakwe & District Mines, Limited, now under extensive development by London capital, and on the East by the Bush Consolidated, also under development. Adjoining the Cassiar group on the North lies the White Heather group, and to the North of this again lies the Shamrock group, which is also the property of the Cassiar Gold Mines, Limited. The Shamrock group adjoins on the South the Spider group, on which considerable development work has been done.

Transportation:

The Cassiar Group is 18 miles from tidewater at the head of Portland Canal, and is reached by first class road from Stewart, B. C., to Hyder, Alaska, and thence through the Alaska strip up the Salmon River valley to the Premier Mine, the road terminating at the B. C. Silver Mine, and thence by trail to the Company's property, a further distance of four miles.

Extent of Properties:

The Cassiar group consists of seven mineral claims and fractions, four of which are Crown Granted. The area approximate 270 acres. The Shamrock Group comprises two Crown Granted claims and one large fractional claim, the three claims approximating 140 acres: or a total of over 400 acres in the two groups.

Mineralization:

On the Sullivan and Vandal Fractional mineral claims, a vein eight feet wide outcrops in a draw and is traceable for several hundred feet. (See Cut No. 2.) This vein strikes Northwesterly

NO. 2. 8-FOOT VEIN ON SULLIVAN CLAIM, CASSIAR GROUP.

NO. 3. SMALL VEIN ON SULLIVAN CLAIM, WITH

and dips to the Southwest. Along the footwall values are obtained of 2.0 ozs. gold and 47 to 51 ozs. silver to the ton. The mineralization here occurs in the form of marcasite and arsenical iron in a quartz gangue. A tunnel has been started under the footwall of a small parallel vein, between the two veins. (See Cut No. 3.) These veins occur in a mineralized zone lying between greenstone on the South and porphyry on the North. At the top of the draw the Salmon River formation, an old sedimentary, overlies the greenstone, while still higher up an argillite, known as the Nass formation, a later sedimentary, overlies the Salmon River formation.

On the Daly claim a galena vein, striking in a North-South direction, outcrops along the face of a porphyry bluff, and lies between diorite and porphyry. This vein is narrow on the surface but widens as it goes down. A picked sample of solid galena assayed 79% lead and 30 ozs. silver to the ton. A crosscut tunnel has been started on the Valley Fractional mineral claim, below the Daly claim, to get some depth on this vein, but has not yet reached its objective. This tunnel will be continued, and, when cut, the vein should be drifted on Southerly until the big eight-foot vein on the Sullivan claim is reached. (See Cut No. 4.) The point of intersection of these two veins is covered on the surface by glacial drift. Enrichment may be expected at the point of intersection. From this point, the tunnel should be turned to the left and the large vein on the Sullivan claim followed into the mountain, when depth would be gained increasingly.

There are other showings on the Daly and Sullivan claims, but the foregoing will be sufficient information for purposes of this Prospectus.

On the Lakeshore claim many veins, of varying widths, are traceable, but these have had no work done on them, with one exception. In a vein 3 to 4 feet wide an open-cut disclosed, besides other minerals, some visible gold. Assays of samples taken from this cut gave values, quoting in round figures only as low as $2.00 and as high as $2,000.00 to the ton, while a picked sample, assayed January 24th, 1928, gave values of $23,400.00 in gold and 795 ozs. silver to the ton. A phenomenal assay of this kind, however, should be properly interpreted. As successful mining is based on quantity and averages, its meaning should be restricted to an indicator of values, pending further development, but as such it is both interesting and promising, and augurs well for results in the development of this gold vein, and other veins on the same claim. A short crosscut tunnel was started to get a little depth on this vein, and is in about 45 feet, with from 20 to 25 feet yet to be driven to reach its objective. This tunnel will be continued, and will give a shallow depth on the vein of about 20 feet. This lead can be traced down hill for some distance, and a tunnel will be driven following the vein in all the way, which will give a depth below the surface cut of about 200 feet. In the development of this vein, apart from mining averages, there is the possibility, and even the probability, that some very rich gold ore will be encountered.

Other promising veins on the Lakeshore claim will be explored and developed.

No. 4. VIEW OF PART OF GROUND IN DALY AND SULLIVAN CLAIMS SHOWING APPROXIMATE POSITIONS OF VEINS.

No. 5. LOOKING SOUTH FROM LONG LAKE, SHOWING POSITION OF CASSIAR GROUP WITH RELATION TO OTHER PROPERTIES.

On the Shamrock Group, a 7-foot vein outcrops on the Edith claim, in which one open-cut has been made. On the Lois claim an open-cut in a 5-foot vein showed some good looking zinc ore in the bottom of the cut, but no samples were taken for assay.

GENERAL:

As the Company owns the properties outright, free of any incumbrance or indebtedness, funds raised by sale of shares will be used for development purposes, and it is proposed to use these funds to the very best possible advantage in the development of the properties, and to get results.

This Prospectus is not written in a manner calculated to appeal to those who would be influenced only by statements of a fabulous character, and is therefore devoid of flambuoyancy or exaggeration, but will be of interest and value to those with some knowledge of mining.

Located in the heart of the Eastern contact mineral belt, the properties of the Cassiar Gold Mines, Limited, comprise some of the best potential mining ground in the Portland Canal country, and their development should add lustre to the name and fame of the Salmon River section as a mineral producing region, and redound to the economic benefit of all interested.
